PA NEWC Observes

On a car driving west on North street Thursday afternoon a front tire blew out with a loud report and a sizzle. Fortunately the car was not going fast and the driver pulled to the curb with no more mishap than a very limp tire.

There will apparently be an unusually large number of vacation church and Bible schools in this city and community during the month judging from the advance notices being made of the scheduled schools.

All autos that now in use here must display the 1944 license tag. Extension granted for use of the old tags expired yesterday.

According to reports from Sharon a swarm of bees selected the traffic light at that city's busiest downtown street intersection to make their home yesterday. The swarm was captured by a bee fancier who chanced to have a store nearby much to the interest of a large crowd of onlookers.

Following the recent exhibition in The News of an eel that was captured in the Neshaanock creek, Pa. Newc is informed by fishermen that there are many eels to be found in the streams in this area.

Today is the final day of school for pupils in New Castle public schools, vacation for the summer having started this afternoon. Only a brief morning session of school was held today.

Pa. Newc is told of an interesting incident that occurred last night. An auto was driven to the vicinity of the Cathedral by three young ladies and parked. After they got inside the building, it was discovered that the car had been left unlocked. They did not go back to look at the machine. A pocketbook, some clothing and other things, and a bag containing two dozen bananas were in the machine. When the trio returned to the car some time later, it was found that every banana that was in the sack had been eaten, but that the pocketbook and other things in the car had not been touched.

Renew Air War By Daylight On Hitler's Europe

Weather Conditions Allow Big Forces Of Bombers To Blast Europe Today

NIGHT RAIDERS HIT FRENCH RAILROADS

By JOHN E. LEE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, June 2.—A vast armada of some 1,750 American warplanes, spearheaded by fortress and Liberator heavy bombers, pummeled the Pas De Calais area of the French invasion coast by daylight today.

The aerial fleet, including some 1,000 bombers and 750 fighters, was described officially as "very strong," and carried out its assault on the heels of the fourth straight two-way night blasting of the continent.

The Balkans Attacked
The dark assault was aimed at German railway and military installations in occupied France and the Balkans and were executed by RAF formations from Britain and warplanes of the Mediterranean command.

Hazy weather which had granted the continent a brief respite from heavy daylight bombing yesterday lifted this morning and coastal observers in the neighborhood of Folkestone on the English channel said bombers and fighters swarmed toward Northern France about noon.

The planes headed in various directions, the fighters mainly toward the Cap Gris Nez as while two big formations of bombers headed southwest toward the Boulogne sector.

Hit Rail Yards
While British-based night raiders struck at the Saumur railroad yards, southwest of Tours, for the second straight day, Italy-based planes hit at rail targets near Szolnok which is southeast of Budapest.

RAF Wellingtons, Halifaxes and Liberators carried out the strike against the Hungarian targets, while the British-based planes hit at Saumur and enemy military objectives in the so-called "invasion coast" area of France.

Washington Roundup

(International News Service)

All is not peaceful in Washington today on plans for an international peace organization. Rep. Sol Bloom (D., N. Y., chairman of the house foreign affairs committee, expressed keen disappointment over the lack of consultation between Secretary of State Hull and the House on the plans. Bloom says he intends to press next week for consideration of his resolution giving the house equal authority with the Senate in the field of foreign affairs and treaty making.

In the Senate, meanwhile, Sen. Vandenberg (R., Mich., declares the Brewster Aeronautical company contract cancellation "demonstrates the necessity for prompt action on postwar economic legislation." A senate military affairs subcommittee is moving to consider effect of a reported cutback planned in the entire aircraft industry.

Both the House and Senate are scheduled to take up Monday resolutions permitting a year's postponement in the trials of Rear Admiral Husband E. Kimmel and Maj. Gen. Walter C. Short. Administration leaders are confident they will be approved.

From Manpower Chief Paul C. McNutt comes a warning that measures must be taken to immediately obtain at least 30,000 men for the coal mines to keep wartime industries going at top speed.

McNutt expresses concern about the situation as developments point toward decisive action within the next 60 days in both the European and Pacific war theaters. An indication of the increasing tempo of American action is the disclosure that more than five million men are now on foreign duty.

Significance Seen In Announcement Of Huge Forces Abroad

By MAJOR PAUL C. RABORG
(Written Especially for N. S.)

NEW YORK, June 2.—Secretary of War Stimson's announcement that there are now 3,765,000 men of the armed services abroad at this time and that there will be 5,000,000 by the end of 1944, should certainly impress every person in the world with the fact that the United States is in this war—straight through to its deadly finish of the Axis ideology.

The war secretary declared: "The period of decisive action is at hand."

The figures he released proved the truth of that statement. Stimson also reported that the air forces and the service of supply without the continental limits of the United States are already placed and are at peak strength. He added that our remaining needed ground troops are now being rapidly shipped across the ocean and are nearing their full required strength.

In Far East Also
It is impossible to place any interpretation on the secretary of war's statements other than that his remarks apply not only to the theatre of war in the west, but to the theatre in the Far East. It has taken a long (Continued On Page Two)

Reveal 175,000 Planes Built In Three Years

(BULLETIN)

WASHINGTON, June 2.—(INS)—President Roosevelt revealed today that the United States in the past three years has produced more than 175,000 war planes. He said that more than 33,000 of these have been sent to fighting forces of the other United Nations.

The president at his news conference said that from Jan. 1 to April 1 of this year 4,400 planes were sent to America's allies, an average of 33 planes shipped or flown abroad to the allies every week.

Of the 175,000 war planes turned out by American factories since March 11, 1941, when the lend-lease act was passed, the president said that the United States has retained four-fifths of those produced while still sending very large numbers to our allies.

Mr. Roosevelt said that of the 33,000 war planes shipped to the United Nations, 7,000 were paid for in cash by the allies while the remaining 26,000 went to them under lend-lease.

Nazis Continue Romania Attack

Moscow Report Says Assaults Are Repulsed With Heavy German Losses

(International News Service)

MOSCOW, June 2.—German armored and infantry forces continued today to batter against the stone-wall defense of Soviet forces north of Iasi, in Romania.

For the third successive day, huge casualties were inflicted on the attacking Nazis who failed to enlarge the initial wedge driven into Red army lines above the important railroad junction.

Russian artillery, mortar and machine gun crews poured a concentrated fire into the attacking Germans and successfully repulsed "all" the enemy thrusts.

"On some sectors," the midnight communiqué added, "Soviet tanks and infantry launched successfully counter-attacks."

Nazi Attacks Stopped Dead
In one sector, three successive German attacks were stopped dead, and when the Germans were forced to withdraw upwards of 800 of their dead littered the battlefield.

The official bulletin also revealed that the toll of enemy planes and tanks supporting the German offensive was increased considerably during the day. For the three days of the offensive, the toll was placed at 166 tanks and 212 planes destroyed.

A Red Star dispatch yesterday had said the "insignificant wedge" which the Germans drove into Russian lines north of Iasi had been locked in a sudden Red army pincers and was being decimated.

On one sector of this front, Romanian troops were put to flight by counter-attacking Russians. The satellite forces were met by a withering fire from their German allies, and hundreds were slain by the Nazi bullets.

On other parts of the eastern front there was comparatively little activity.

EXPECT BIG ACTION WITHIN 60 DAYS

By JOSEPH A. BORS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, June 2.—Developments at home and abroad pointed today toward decisive action within the next 60 days in both the European and Pacific war theatres.

Latest disclosure of the increasing tempo of American action came from Secretary of War Stimson and the navy department who disclosed that more than five million members of the armed services are now on duty outside the United States.

After Stimson announced that three million 657 thousand soldiers are on foreign duty and this total would jump to five million by the end of the year, the navy reported that one million 566 thousand members of the navy, coast guard and marine corps were "or are on foreign duty stations as of April 1". An additional 900,000 men of the navy are now in transit or training for sea or overseas duty.

Reinforcements Aid MacArthur's Forces On Biak

Yanks Attacking Japs On Biak Island Are Greatly Strengthened

TO RESUME DRIVE ON THREE AIRFIELDS

By GEORGE LAIT
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

GEN. DOUGLAS MACARTHUR'S Hq., New Guinea, June 2.—Gen. Douglas MacArthur steadily strengthened his amphibious forces on Biak Island today, pouring a stream of reinforcements ashore to bolster the Americans preparing to resume their drive on the strategic island's three airfields.

Naval and Air Cover
Strong naval and air fleets provided cover for the reinforcements as they swarmed ashore on the Dutch New Guinea island. So effective was the support provided by these armadas that enemy aircraft and surface vessels based in Geelvink Bay were prevented from interfering with the new landings.

As the landing progressed, fighter escorted Havoc attack bombers smashed at the enemy's Rankisi airfield and small shipping at nearby Moemi Island. Huge fires were caused and a Jap barge was sunk.

Japan Island south of Biak, buildings were destroyed when huge four-motored Liberators struck the Manawai village.

Strafe Japs
Twin-engined Mitchell and attack bombers pounded and strafed Japanese positions in the jungle hills flanking the American perimeter west and north of Bosnek village, on Biak Island. Ground action for the most part was confined to patrol engagements, mortar exchanges and sniping activity.

Bond Campaign Leaders Named For County Areas

The county organization is headed by Judge W. Walter Braham, with Joel S. McKee as co-chairman. The New Castle chairman is John J. Maher and Fred L. Reutz, co-chairman. Charles H. Blank will head the Ellwood City district with H. R. Smith and R. J. Schill as co-chairmen. W. H. McCullough will head the Wampum district, with H. E. Marshall as co-chairman. T. L. Ashcom heads the New Wilmington district, with Russell Gausler as co-chairman. Carl Montgomery heads the Bessemer district. P. M. Cox the Volant district and A. W. Tindall the townships surrounding New Castle.

Lawrence county is faced with a hard job to put the fifth loan quota over. The total is $7,010,000, an increase of five per cent over the fourth loan, which in turn was an increase over the third. This loan means more sales of "E" bonds than ever before, more sales of "F" and "G" and of other issues. It means work.

Main Escape Route Of Nazis Cut By Allies

Two-Phased Setback In Italy Suffered By German Divisions

VELLETRI SCENE OF STREET BATTLES

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

NAPLES, June 2.—Badly-mauled German divisions in Italy suffered a two-phased setback when American troops of the Fifth Army smashed their way into Velletri, keystone of the Nazis' Rome defense line and smashed the main escape route of the Germans to the south.

Fifth Army troops slashed through heavy resistance to cut the Via Casilina in the vicinity of the German stronghold of Valmontone, thus cutting off the main escape road for vast hordes of Nazi streaming up from the southern battle area.

Pierce fighting was touched off in the streets of semi-encircled Velletri when Yank spearheads smashed their way into the city limits.

Both these sectors are the most important of the remaining German defenses south of Rome, extending from Avezzano to the Tyrrhenian sea.

Sweeping Raids By U. S. Bombers In Pacific Areas

PEARL HARBOR, June 2.—(INS)—The most sweeping raids carried out during recent weeks by Seventh Army Air Force bombers based in the Central Pacific were announced today by Admiral Chester W. Nimitz.

Targets of the Seventh's far-ranging Liberators and Mitchells were Japanese installations on Guam and Wake Islands and Truk and Ponape in the Carolines.

A formation of Liberators struck Guam in daylight Sunday, making the first raid since May 6 against the Jap-held former American possession.

All major airbase, shipping and defense installations on Wake Island were soundly rocked Tuesday with the raiding Army Liberators encountering only meager anti-aircraft fire.

Seventh AAF Liberators pounded Japan's Naval base of Truk Tuesday night, meeting weak resistance, both in the air and from ground guns.

Two-engine Mitchells attacked Ponape during daylight Tuesday hitting gun positions, airfield runways and gun defenses. On the same day, Navy and Marine bombers and fighters gave their attention to remaining Jap-held positions in the Marshall Islands, heavily bombing and straining blockhouses, barracks and coastal guns. As in the other raids, anti-aircraft fire was described as meager.

Woman Held In Fatal Shooting

BEDFORD, Pa., June 2.—(INS)—Miss Cleo Mellotte, 30-year-old Everett coal truck helper, today was being held without bail in connection with the fatal shooting of her apartment house neighbor, Mrs. Charlotte Ziegler, 29, last May 25.

A comic valentine pasted on the wall outside their adjoining apartments last February was reportedly the origin of their feud.

Miss Mellotte has told authorities she shot Mrs. Ziegler, mother of two, after the married woman allegedly attempted to attack her with a piece of lead pipe.

Important things are happening from Sydney clear to Rome, events that shake the well known world but now and then at home, there's something happens that transcends the cataclysmic fray, they're milestones on the path of life, and there are some today. For as you read the wartime news, there's one thing should be noted, this was the end of school today, the youngsters got promoted. Important, why of course it is, for when the race is run, such things have marked the road you took, the weather's ninety-one.

Extend Job Control Plan

Entire Nation To Be Included In W. M. C. Control Over Employment

By WILLIAM E. ZIMMERMAN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, June 2.—The War Manpower Commission today ordered its present voluntary job controls extended on a national basis as a substitute for national service legislation in order to meet shortages of male labor in critical heavy war industry.

WMC Chairman Paul V. McNutt said that the action, which will become effective by July 1, will obligate all employers to hire male workers only through the United States employment service or by arrangement approved by various area organizations of the commission. The efforts of the WMC to cope with the current shortages will apply to all males over 17 years of age.

One of the prime objectives of the new program will be to intensify national manpower recruitment efforts, moving workers from surplus labor communities and areas where production cutbacks occur to vital war plants still in need of manpower.

Scout Executives To Help Agent In Farm Labor Hiring

At a meeting of the Boy Scout Executive Board called by Dr. G. S. Bennett, president of the board, those present went on record Thursday evening as extending their full cooperation to the county agricultural agent in making available their resources in the emergency farm labor situation.

their disposal more than 17,000 combat planes on 750 airfields scattered throughout the world.

The navy only mentioned its manpower strength but backing the powerful land and air forces is the strongest navy the world has ever known, which includes powerful aircraft carriers and thousands of planes for sea-air strikes against the enemy, especially in the Pacific.

Stimson said significantly that these American forces now are preparing to strike "victory winning blows" against Japan and Germany.

Among Possibilities

Best examples of America's mounting strength and the increasing power of the Allies are the current offensives in Italy and in the Southwest Pacific against strategic Biak Island.

Military and naval experts expect important invasion blows in the Pacific during the coming weeks, and these undoubtedly will be on a scale undreamed of to date in that war zone.

Among early possibilities are:

1. A carrier task force blow either at the Japanese homeland or the vital outpost islands of the Bonin group.
2. An invasion of the Marianas, the East Indies or the Philippines.
3. A bomber assault on Japanese industrial centers by long range bombers.

Other American patrols in the Wakde-Sarmi area, 200 miles to the east, killed 75 more Japs, bringing to 1,435 the total of "known enemy casualties." One U. S. party successfully ambushed a group of the enemy, slaying 11 Nipponese troops.

Another clash occurred near the Toerfoem river, where American mortar experts blew up 12 Japs who attempted to block a jungle trail to the U. S. scouts.

In the American campaign to seize the Maffin Bay airfield, 49 enemy troops died in vain attempts to infiltrate the Yank positions. American casualties were placed at 12 killed, 7 wounded.

FALLS OFF TRUCK; FRACTURES SKULL

Although J. E. McCracken, 1419 Thorpe street, ice truck operator, reportedly warned some children to stop "hanging onto" his ice truck yesterday afternoon, they did not heed his advice and according to a report to police headquarters, one child suffered a fractured skull in a fall and is in the New Castle hospital. He is Joseph McCreary, age 6, of 1307 Pennsylvania avenue. The accident occurred in Hamilton street Thursday afternoon.

The average human heart beats 72 times a minute, 104,000 times a day and 38 million times a year.

MAIN ESCAPE ROUTES OF NAZIS CUT BY ALLIES

fighting inside Velletri. However, the Nazis in that region appear to be under orders to fight to the death, in an effort to hold up the Fifth Army advance.

Nazis Seek To Get Away

Meanwhile, the enemy troops to the south are attempting to extricate themselves at all costs from their precarious positions.

Before smashing their way into Velletri, the Yanks had cut the city off from three sides. The U. S. forces advanced northeast and northwest of the town, then swung in behind Velletri three miles north of the enemy bastion.

"Hard fighting" prevailed along the Italian front, both in the Alban Hills where the U. S. infantrymen were in sight of Rome and in the Liri-Sacco valley area where the British Eighth Army was moving steadily toward a juncture with the Fifth Army.

The troops of Lieut. Gen. Mark W. Clark were well established on Mount Artemisio, and Allied headquarters pointed out that this "constituted a penetration of the enemy's defensive system on the Valmontone-Velletri line."

The Eighth Army, meantime, continued its drive astride Highway Six (the Via Cassina). Advanced elements of the British-Canadian force approached Ferentino, northwest of captured Frosinone.

In this drive, Canadian troops pressed the German rear guards severely, hammering right on the heels of the Nazis as they streamed northward toward the tottering Rome line.

In establishing themselves atop towering Mount Artemisio, the toughened American infantrymen had to overcome stubborn opposition from the badly badgered Nazis.

The Fifth Army forces continued their attacks along the entire length of the northern front from Ardena to the Tyrrhenian sea. The fiercely defended Valmontone-Velletri line was penetrated when the Yanks took high ground north of Velletri and this breakthrough is being exploited with attacks in the Alban Hills southwest and west of the main ridge.

Lariano, which was taken on Wednesday with little resistance, has already been cleaned up and other elements of the Fifth Army pushed north of that town.

Powerful enemy resistance and many counter-attacks met the Fifth Army in the Campoleone and Lavinio sectors, and westward toward the sea.

Fighting raged west of the Valmontone-Ardena road and elements of our forces have driven across the east-west railroad north of Ardena.

Seeks To Keep Route Open

Nazi Field Marshal Albert Kesselring obviously was making every effort to keep Highway Six open; the Herman Goering division was battling on both sides of this road and there was strong evidence that the enemy was trying to send in reinforcements.

French components of the main Fifth Army pushed on beyond Patricia and Tomacella to capture Morolo and Ponte di Morolo, as well as high ground in the vicinity of Montelanico.

The Canadians' spurt toward Perentino combined with the French advance in the heights near Segurula threatens all the Germans fighting rearguard actions in that sector.

Herculean feats of bridge construction by Allied engineers are making possible the speedy advance, and both naval and land artillery are making their force seriously felt by the enemy.

Nazis taken prisoner confirm the crushing effect of the Allied artillery. Mediterranean Air Force planes continued their support of the land drive, blasting enemy communication lines and troop concentrations near the battle areas.

The enemy's defense system was pierced by the Yanks in a surprise maneuver, in which they feinted toward the key communications center of Valmontone then swung to the left to smash deep into the Nazi line. This swift infiltration carried the U. S. soldiers to the uppermost heights of the Alban Hills and gave them a clear view of the Eternal City.

territory" during the night, said that "military objectives" near the French invasion coast were hit again. For the last few days, those same Nazi installations have undergone their most savage bombardments of the war.

The railroad yards of Saumur, some 38 miles southwest of Tours, again were raided. They had been hit along with other key French rail centers 24 hours before.

Not a single British plane was lost in the widespread night operations.

First announcement of the night assaults came from the Nazi radio which warned that "nuisance raiders" were approaching western Germany. Later, the air ministry issued its initial bulletin, declaring briefly:

"RAF bombers were over occupied territory last night."

The night assaults came barely 24 hours after large formations of four-engined British planes smashed three rail centers and enemy coastal defenses in France with a 3,360-ton pre-dawn blasting. The targets in these raids were rail yards at Terguier, Trappes and Nez coastal stretch.

Simultaneously, Mediterranean-based bombers had poured a heavy weight of explosives on Rumania's "iron gate" where a railroad used by the Germans to haul barges through the Anube river barrows was badly mauled.

The Germans obtained their first respite in six days of tremendous bombing when low clouds and mist over the English channel prevented Allied planes from taking off in force yesterday. However, Marauder medium bombers escorted by P-47 Thunderbolt fighters of the Ninth U. S. Air Force raked the northern French "military objectives."

SIGNIFICANCE SEEN IN ANNOUNCEMENT OF HUGE FORCES ABROAD

time for the steam roller of American armed strength to get into high speed. But now that condition has come to pass and both Hitler and Hirohito have a very excellent picture of the doom which is steadily driving towards them with deadly sureness.

It has been said that for every man at the front with a bayonet and a gun there are three behind him. Perhaps two of those men occupying rear positions are also overseas, leaving one of the three in the United States. Looking at the picture of our strength from that viewpoint, by the end of 1944 every available fighting man we have may be in either the western or Far Eastern theatre of war operations.

Stupendous Air Force Job

The United States army air force has performed a stupendous piece of work, for Stimson clearly indicated that as of this date we have in the Pacific area sufficient air units to accomplish the crushing of the Empire of the Rising Sun.

The war secretary's statement shows everyone in the country that as of this time we have something over 2,000,000 more men in both theatres of war overseas service than the peak number of men shipped for fighting duty in World War One to foreign soil.

It is amazing to realize that the total air force—2,357,000 men is far greater than all of the land forces of the United States as of the date of their original mobilization in 1940. It is equally staggering to know that slightly less than a half of the total air force personnel is now serving in foreign land overseas.

Nothing can stop victory now unless there should be a let-down at home and that cannot be.

There are no hills of importance in Louisiana, and much of the land is lower than the immediate banks of the Mississippi river.

Restoring Europe's Health

Because it is impossible to obtain precise information on the medical needs of the occupied countries of Europe, Dr. James A. Crabtree of the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration faces a tough job in working out a medical supply program to take care of the first and most urgent needs of the inhabitants of the freed nations. But it is encouraging to hear that the program, planned on the best information available, is well under way.

The peril of epidemics among people who have long suffered the consequences of war is well realized. Dr. Crabtree points out that after the last world conflict, 3,500 cases of typhus occurred in Poland alone. Under the UNRRA program, an epidemic control unit consists of drugs, pharmaceuticals, biologicals, serums and vaccines, and also sanitation equipment, particularly that needed for emergency treatment of water supplies.

Such a unit also includes 1,000 cots that could be set up in any large building for isolation purposes. It is the plan of the UNRRA to have one such unit in supply for each million of population. There also is a planned medical supply unit which will contain the bare essentials of drugs and medical supplies in quantities to meet the needs of 100,000 medically destitute people for one month.

At the time of liberation, the UNRRA hopes to have such units assembled, packaged and ready to go into any area promptly. Plans also have been made for hospital, laboratory and sanitation units.

It is in the interest of the United States and other Allied nations to see that every reasonable means be taken to prevent epidemics and the spread of them in the liberated countries. Some epidemics are no respecters of national boundaries or ocean barriers, as the influenza epidemic proved. And from a purely practical standpoint, it is better that Europe's people be brought back to health as soon as possible. It need not be added that humanitarian considerations demand it.

An encouraging note comes from Dr. Crabtree, who says that it will be surprising to many persons how quickly these countries can bounce back to health. And he hopes for a permanent international health organization after the war.

When Are You Best?

At what age does a man reach his mental peak? Harvey C. Lehman, a professor in Ohio university, has been investigating, with some surprising results.

A doctor has so much to learn that he might be thought to require many years. Actually he is at his best between 35 and 39, the same age at which their peak is reached by philosophers and musicians.

Composers of music, however, are not tops till 48, which is also the best year for actors. Generals do best between 40 and 44, a truth which armies have been slow to learn but which is appreciated in this war.

A novelist, who needs to have reflected long about human nature, comes to perfection at 46. But that other reflective spirit, the humorist, does not attain his highest point till he is 56. A judge is best at 58.

Is there anything good to be said for the people over 60? The strategy of tackling problems improves with age. Older folk are cooler drivers and better judges of what is possible on the road. Their hazard is, of course, a tendency to reject new ideas, a hardening of the mental arteries.

What is the best age of all? Dr. Lehman does not answer, but a cynic might reply, "Some other age than your own."

Free Enterprise

The Indiana Manufacturers Association recognizes that when war orders cease to provide employment, business must utilize all of its ingenuity and resourcefulness to assure plenty of work at adequate wages. Business is planning to that end now and hundreds of industries are reported to have products in the blueprint stage that they never manufactured before.

The extent to which this program can be adopted depends, the Indiana Manufacturers Association believes, upon what government does and the attitude of organized labor's leaders. The association has issued a statement in which it urges that free enterprise be given a fair trial. It says:

"The issues should be clearly defined now so that people in all walks of life may decide between government control of everything and everybody, and free competitive enterprise. Otherwise we may enter the postwar period on the false assumption that free enterprise will supply jobs, only to discover that the American system is not able to function because of restrictions beyond its control."

Left-wingers are determined that the hold government now has on business shall not be relinquished. The leaders of this school seem to feel that prosperity and the good of labor depend upon continued interference by boards, bureaus and commissions.

Here, as the Indiana Manufacturers Association declares, is a clear issue that people in all walks of life should decide. The question is whether government shall continue to restrict and hamper free enterprise, or give it a chance to take up the postwar slack.

Water First

The threat to the basic resource of much of the most prosperous part of the United States is discussed in a Saturday Evening Post article on the declining supply of sub-surface water. This decline has long been known to public officials who keep track of natural resources, to water utility engineers and to many individuals who have had to drill or dig wells deeper to reach a new source of water.

Communities in many states have had enough experience with the first stages of decline into aridity to know what can happen. Wells give out, springs dry up, the stream flow is so reduced as to make the water unfit for slaking the thirst of people or animals. The farmer must then haul water, and usually that expedient, if long continued, proves to be so expensive that he begins to reduce his demand for water, probably by sacrificing his livestock.

Industrial communities which depend on water in manufacturing processes have begun to show some interest in water conservation. But their interest was not aroused by warnings based on surveys. It did not flare up until they failed to get new factories, or perhaps lost established industries which did not wish to rest their future on an uncertain water supply.

Experts have been cautious about pointing out the obvious possibilities of water waste and failure to hold surface water until it can be absorbed. But among themselves they discuss what happens to land which is allowed to lapse into aridity by slow degrees. There comes a time when it is not worth the cost of building up the water supply. Farms are abandoned. Towns fall into ruin. The area sinks into a coma, the victim not of drought but of man's shortsightedness.

Remember the good old days when everybody believed in the Four Freedoms?

Public Seems Indifferent

WASHINGTON, June 2.—I wonder if ever before in history there has been a period of suspense like the one that surely now must be at hand.

Outwardly, here in America, life goes on as it always has. That is one of the strange things about the period we've been living through. Ours is almost the last area on the face of the earth where life is normal or comparatively normal. Where shops in clothing, food, jewelry, flowers, where people have money to buy these things; where the trains are crowded with people going places.

It's even a little scary when you stop to think about it—how isolated we are in our prosperity and our seeming security. On the eve of invasion, the OPA took the questionable step of lifting one of the few restrictions on civilians, making all meats except beefsteaks and roasts available without ration permits.

Warns Against Optimism

Admiral Ernest J. King, chief of naval operations, in a talk the other day, warned against wishful thinking and easy optimism. Above all, he wanted to say that the invasion of Europe would not be, as some people seem to have assumed, a matter of pushing the ball over the goal line from the two-yard line. I doubt, however, if the general mood is one of false optimism. Perhaps fatalism more nearly describes the American attitude at this moment.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

ADULTS CAN LEARN MUCH FROM YOUTH

"WE WISH parents and teachers would be willing to let us tell them how we see things and feel about them. We don't expect them always to agree with us, but we believe they might learn a bit even from us occasionally."

So spoke a high school girl on a youth panel recently at the Annual Institute of Family Relationships in Philadelphia, under the auspices of the Women's Interdenominational Union of that city.

The leader of the forum, Dorothy Waldo Phillips, Youth Counselor, who meets with youth and pleads for them almost daily somewhere in the United States, replied: "You are right. We can learn from you and we are learning from you right now, and turning to the adults present added: "We should be learning from youth. If we are to help them most, we need to understand how they see things and how they feel. We need to be able to put ourselves through our imagination in their place. In order to do this, we want these young people to tell us freely what is in their hearts and minds. They will do so when they are convinced that we are ready to listen to what they have to say and to prove it by our attitude toward them as we listen."

More Understanding Needed
She certainly was right. If by our demeanor or remarks we indicate that we consider their ideas opinions and remarks unworthy of our respectful consideration, they will be inclined to express their ideas only to each other or harbor these ideas resentfully.

In recent years we older persons have made some progress in proving to youth that we do want to learn from them. Strong evidence is revealed in the increasing number of youth forums, and youth panels put on at conferences, institutes and conventions of adults representing various local, state and national organizations. In the junior and senior high school and college the student council has served as a means for adolescents to interpret their ideas and problems to the teachers and other adults. On some church boards, too, youths are being added. Why should they not share in the councils for shaping programs which have so very much to do with them?

Of course these youngsters lack the wisdom of experience which adults have. Yet they also have much for us to learn from them. If we only will be ready to learn. Nor shall we adults always agree with youth or do as they want us to. Sometimes we shall, we believe wisely make judgments and decisions contrary to their wishes. But even when we do so they will accept our judgments and decisions more graciously after they discover that we have been willing to listen to them, have become familiar with their point of view. Treated so, your boy or girl or mine will be ready to go more than the first mile with us.

The principle constantly applies in the home and school. Let us prove to the youth that we are always willing and eager to get his viewpoint, being careful never to treat it with contempt or indifference or to show the slightest anger when we disagree.

WMC Extends Labor Control

Employers Must Hire Male Workers Only From Those Referred By United States Employment
Service

Threatened increases in labor shortages have brought about an extension in WMC controls over manpower it is announced by the War Manpower Commission today. Previously exercised only in critical areas, the "priority referral" procedures will be used in all areas, beginning July 1, whether the labor supply in the area is inadequate or sufficient.

Under this program, no employer may hire male workers except from among those referred to him by the United States Employment Service of the WMC. In order to get a job in New Castle, the applicant will first have to register with the local employment office. This is so that jobs where there is a critical need for workers will have a priority over those which are considered non-essential.

Employment Ceilings

For labor shortage areas, Group I and Group II, an employment ceiling program and a program of manpower priorities committees will also go into effect by July 1. The employment ceilings will work just as ceilings on food work. The quotas which can be hired will be based on the number employed at certain periods. New Castle, which is in Group III at the present time, will not be affected by the ceilings and manpower committees as the regulations now stand.

The fourth part of the extended control program is an intensified recruitment program to transfer workers from areas where there is a loose labor market to areas of labor stringency, in order to keep production even. Lumbering, forge shops and foundries, army and navy projects, aircraft, ball bearings and shipbuilding are industries which will receive special attention under this part of the program.

In connection with this program, regional directors are consulting with local management-labor committees and the USES in order to get the greatest amount of cooperation. Management-labor committees make the final decisions on all appeals to change jobs in war industries.

Problem Increasingly Serious

WMC, fearing a greatly increased labor stringency in many places, including New Castle, and seeing that Congress is now enacting legislation to compel people to remain in essential jobs, developed the idea about two weeks ago at a meeting of regional officials in Chicago, and telegraphed the regional directors on the twenty-third of May. "WMC officials feel that not a single unit of war production can be lost at this time, and that a greater public recognition of the seriousness of the problem is necessary. Over-optimism, leading to increased turnover of labor, is one of the greatest difficulties in the way of an early ending of the war."

No Curtailment Of Mail For Overseas

Postmaster Hanna States That Rumors Being Passed About
Are Unfounded

Whether enemy agents are responsible for the rumor, or whether some misguided gossip started it is not known, but Postmaster William R. Hanna received a number of calls yesterday from relatives of men in service overseas, asking if the mailing of letters and packages to men overseas has been discontinued.

There has been no curtailment of mail service to men overseas, the Postmaster states, but the same restrictions are in force as heretofore, namely that packages to men in certain areas overseas must contain articles requested by them. Letters are going out as usual and one can send as many as he wants, but V-mail is still preferred and gets to its destination quicker.

and we still are fighting our way along house by house, ferreting out the Nazis. Lively exchanges are taking place immediately south of the city, where a large number of the enemy are trapped.

Factors In Drive
Two big facts stood out in the maneuver which led to the city's downfall. The first of these was the fact that battles are won at maximum speed when the commander operates with his front-line units.

An example of this was provided today when the division commander went forward to direct the battle from battalion headquarters at the time when the drive had bogged down. His action gave the campaign the shot in the arm which the tired Doughboys needed after marching and fighting for 48 hours.

The second was that the Americans know how to cope with Kesselring's tactics, which in this area appear to hinge about the establishment of isolated pockets of resistance, deeply dug in, but without any good system of intercommunication. The Doughboys were led by Lieutenant-Colonel Austin Gilmarin of Dover, N. J. Robert Johnson of White Plains, N. Y., and Edwin Richardson of West Brook, Me.

Enter Velletri
The entry into Velletri, a coveted prize, came at the conclusion of a three-pronged assault which drove through the enemy pocket formed as a result of yesterday's capture of Mount Artemisio.

A Nazi force 1,500 yards to the west of us below Velletri launched a vigorous counter-attack, attempting to screen the withdrawal of the main garrison. It was beaten off and the Americans proceeded with their main task: turning artillery, mortars and rifles against the enemy's fortified positions.

These strongpoints, however, were able to withstand plenty of punishment and the Nazis contested furiously the Doughboys' advance across open fields by concentrating machine-gun fire on them. Final occupation of the town is a slow business and plenty tough, but the Americans are learning fast.

Pope Reiterates Hope That Rome Will Be Spared

LONDON, June 2 (INS)—Pope Pius XII today reiterated his hope that Rome will be spared from the ravages of war, adding that "whoever lifts a hand" against the Eternal City would be "guilty of matricide."

Addressing the college of cardinals the Pope in a broadcast over the Vatican radio and heard in London, said:

"We hope that, at all costs, Rome will be saved from becoming a theatre of war. In the past year the conflict has reached grave and atrocious proportions."

TREAT SWEET CORN SEED BEFORE PLANTING IS MADE

Treating sweet corn seed before planting, with chemicals will provide protection against both soil-borne and seed-borne organisms.

Compounds such as Semesan, Jr. or Arasan or Barbak C, used at the rate of a quarter-teaspoonful per pound of seed is recommended, and since the costs involved are minor, all sweet corn seed should be treated.

Sweet corn should be planted in rows about three feet apart and seeded 12 inches in the row, or the equivalent in hills. Just before the corn appears above the ground, small weeds can be easily killed and the crust broken, but all cultivation should be shallow, just deep enough to control weeds. Frequent cultivation prevents weed growth.

Prevalence of the corn borer this year makes it imperative to watch the young corn, particularly when the plants are about a foot tall. At this stage, the plants should be dusted with one per cent rotenone or the nicotine mixture, Black Leaf 155.

The hybrid varieties are more uniform and usually have greater vigor and disease resistance than ordinary open-pollinated varieties. Only six pounds per acre are required in the small-seeded hybrids.

The best time to harvest is when the ears have become well filled and before the kernels have reached the dough stage. If corn is picked in the cool part of the day, the quality is better.

ON COLLEGE COMMITTEE

Miss Edith Shira, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Shira, R. D. 6, New Castle, a high honor student in the secondary curriculum at State Teachers college, Slippery Rock, has been made chairman of the music committee of the Y. W. C. A. for next year.

Local Program Is Commended

Economic Development Plan Of
Lawrence County Committee
Is Given Praise

Lawrence County's Committee for Economic Development has received an unusual tribute from the national organization for the questionnaire recently sent out to 350 firms in the county asking for information on post-war plans.

The folder asked many questions as to post-war plans, among them what the firms will spend on new equipment, what new lines of merchandise they expect to handle, what lines will be abandoned and what factors they believe will stimulate trade. Under the latter heading are set down such things as adequate parking, expansion of rural trade, post war housing, and others.

Best In District

In a letter to L. B. Round, chairman of the Committee for Economic Development for Lawrence County, Richard S. Testut, regional manager for Southern Pennsylvania and Delaware, said in part "I am in touch with over 130 community committees in Pennsylvania and Delaware and this is the most original and practical sounding-board for our commercial program which I have seen. I am sure that it will prove very effective."

"Through arrangements made by Walter Kelly we are sending this out to all C.E.D. chairmen in our area as a case study of outstanding community action."

Replies to the questionnaires sent cut locally are coming in to the C.E.D. headquarters in the Greater New Castle Association headquarters gradually but it is hoped the entire 350 will be answered within a short time.

Jackson District, the Edenburg Methodist; Wampum District, the Newport Methodist and Plain Grove District, the Plain Grove Presbyterian.

The ladies of the Convention church are urging that reservation slips be sent in as early as possible to Sunday School headquarters, Lawrence Savings and Trust Bldg., so that they may make ample provision for all who wish to be served.

Two Submarines To Be Launched Sunday

PHILADELPHIA, June 2.—(INS)—Two submarines to be launched Sunday at the Cramp Shipbuilding company yards in Philadelphia will be dedicated to the Quaker City police force in honor of its work during the fourth war loan campaign.

Each of the underseas craft, the U. S. S. Sabalo and the U. S. S. Sabefish, will bear a plaque commemorating the work of the policemen in selling $16,800,000 worth of bonds in the drive. This amount was sufficient to pay for the construction and equipment of the submarines.

Mrs. Charles M. Oman, wife of Rear Admiral Oman, commanding officer of the naval cadet hospital for officers at Haverham N. Y., will sponsor the Sabalo. The Sabefish will be christened by Mrs. Edmund W. Burroughs, wife of Captain Burroughs, of Washington, D. C.

Indiana Alumni Will Buy Organ

INDIANA, Pa., June 2.—(INS)—Alumni of State Teachers College at Indiana, after four years of campaigning, have finally raised $15,000 to purchase a pipe organ for the college auditorium. Now they have to wait until the war ends before they can buy the instrument.

Mrs. Betty McMeans Kunkle of Johnstown is president of the Alumni Association, which sponsored the drive.

CLIP PASTURES NOW FOR QUALITY GROWTH LATER

Bluegrass in Lawrence County pastures is now headed out, and will very soon be so high in fiber and low in protein that the cows will not touch it.

These pastures must be moved without delay if the bluegrass is to continue to grow. Most grasses make very little growth after seed has been produced, and bluegrass is no exception. Many farmers mow only a part of the pasture each day so that the cows will clean up the wilted grass.

If the growth of grass is heavy, it may be wise to make hay or grass silage from part of the pasture. The important part is to clip the pasture now to insure grazing later.

TEACH CHICKS TO ROOST REGULARLY WHILE YOUNG

An easy way to teach chicks to roost is to stretch a piece of poultry netting across the front of the roosting platform shortly after dusk and after chicks have been driven to the platform. Repeating this practice nightly for a week will usually train the chicks to sleep on perches.

The roosting platform should be covered with wire under perches. This prevents losses through smothering and crowding, such as may occur if they are confined to restricted floor space under roosts.

The wire also keeps the chicks out of accumulated droppings, thus reducing disease hazards. Floor litter remains dry longer when chicks use roosts at an early age. Roosting platforms should be available when chicks are 6 to 7 weeks old.

PART OF HAY CROP MAY BE STORED IN SILO

For several years many Lawrence County farmers have made grass silage as a means of providing quality feed for the late summer, fall, and winter months. Its use also means that haymaking is less dependent on good weather conditions.

While most farmers have used preservatives such as molasses, some have found that good silage can be made without this expense if the grass is wilted somewhat and if the material is cut short and packed well.

Further information on making grass silage may be secured from the Agricultural Extension Office, No. 206 Post Office Building, New Castle.

SEES DANGER IN USE OF CANNING POWDERS

There is no magic and plenty of harm in so-called canning powders, often used with the idea that they will preserve home-canned foods.

Behind innocent-looking trade names, hide substances likely to be dangerous when used in canned foods—formaldehyde, or example, salicylic acid, boric acid and its compounds. While some may not be harmful in one small dose, if taken frequently as they would in canned foods served meal after meal, they might have a most injurious cumulative effect.

Moreover, most canning powders just do not preserve. Experiments have shown that the treacherous botulism can grow and give off its deadly poison in canned foods put up with powders containing boric acid instead of with adequate heat processing.

Home canners may become lax about thorough cleaning of all equipment and ascribe to the powder magic powers that will make up for poor fruits and vegetables and careless canning methods. So a homemaker might use a canning powder comparatively harmless to health and still have food ruined by spoilage organisms.

Nothing will take the place of heat properly applied in right canning methods. For safety, hold to canning rules based on scientific research. Process in a boiling water bath fruits and tomatoes; in a steam pressure canner all other vegetables, meat, and poultry. And do not use canning powders.

Don't hang garments that have been cleaned, laundered or aired in the sun, in a dark closet, even for a short time. Store immediately in the cedar chest or other preferred place. If you do not, there is the possibility of a stray moth lighting on them and laying her eggs, and the damage is done.

OCD NOTES

Members of the 6-2 post of the OCD are progressive. Not only were they first to erect a plaque to men and women from that district in armed service but indications are they will be first to branch out further along that line. The plaque which they did erect became too small. More room was needed for names so the plaque which stood at Sampson and Grant street has been disposed of to the Colored Elks and a new plaque which will contain photographs of the men and women in service has been purchased and upon its arrival will be placed according to Senior Warden Ed. Johnson. The parents and other relatives of the people in service are to procure 2x2 photographs and these will be on the plaque. They are to be delivered to John Hitch, 526 Bell avenue. The residents of that district have already contributed more than $300 for the new plaque which will be eight by five feet.

Boy Scouts of Nigeria are helping increase the Allies' food supply.

Wallboard joints can be made invisible with colored tapex cement and perforated tape which can be obtained through lumber firms and building supply dealers. This hint is worth knowing about if you plan to cover an old ceiling or wall or build a new room partition.

Three billion feet of timber went up in the smoke of U. S. forest fires in 1943.

No embarrassment. If you ever need cash, a Personal loan on your own signature may be a wise solution.

Overseas Parcels Should Be Packed Securely Says Hanna

Many Additional Clerks Are Needed To Repack Loose Articles
In Soldier Mail

If you want your boy to receive the package you are sending to him overseas, you had better pack it as securely as possible, Postmaster William R. Hanna warned today.

Advises from the Postmaster General states that many packages are received at New York, which have already been broken open and their contents strewn among the mail. This necessitates employment of a large additional force of clerks, who can ill be spared at this time.

Packages going overseas should be packed more securely than packages sent out in this country. The post office department suggests that wood or tin containers be used, if possible, but if they are not available, to use boxes made of solid fiber board, or double-faced corrugated fiber board. The package should be securely gummed with paper tape or tied with strong twine or both, and should contain enough cushioning material that the articles do not rattle around loose inside the package.

Level Of Business Holds Unchanged

PITTSBURGH, June 2.—(INS)—For the third consecutive week, the level of business in the Pittsburgh district held about unchanged last week, it was reported today by Pitt's bureau of business research.

The volume of industrial production rose somewhat, but was offset by small decreases in shipments and trade so that after seasonal adjustment the bureau's index last week stood at 178.1 per cent of the 1935-39 average.

Steel mill operations reportedly declined slightly, although there were no changes in finishing mill schedules or in the number of active blast furnaces. Coal production was reported on the increase.

Avoid Foreign Investments Is Warning From Babson

By ROGER W. BABSON
Copyright—1944—Publishers Financial Bureau, Inc.

BABSON PARK, Mass., June 2.—With lend-lease commitments approaching in value $25,000,000,000, it would seem that our financial backing of our Allies in terms of war materials, food and probably in an undisclosed amount of gold is nearing a maximum. Retention of lend-lease will provide a small credit against the final sum. The export of armaments may decline from here on, but shipments of food, clothing, building materials and other items for civilian rehabilitation will increase as more territory comes under Allied government.

Already plans are being formulated for the disposition abroad, after the war, of surplus U. S. motor equipment. Similar plans will be devised for the gift or sale of other war equipment adapted to civilian use. As in the case of France after World War I, nations allied with the U. S. A. in World War II, as well as the smaller countries first to feed Hitler's blows, will profit greatly from our government's generosity.

These have consisted principally of governments, municipalities and utility bonds. I have also seen them own foreign railroad and mining stocks. They have ranged far afield to Germany, Russia, Japan, Mexico and the Latin-Americans. As I look back over these experiences, I doubt if they ever netted a dime out of their foreign holdings. Hence, I have concluded it is far better to have readers' funds invested in this country where at least the investor can visit the physical properties and be acquainted with the management and in case of trouble—have the benefit of U. S. courts.

Air transportation, the acquaintance of millions of service men and women with foreign customs and places, inter-marriages and the handing out of millions of U. S. consumer products will tend to break down the barriers of race, language and religion. But for many years I am afraid that Uncle Sam may be looked upon as a Santa Claus or as a senile old man who foolishly risks his money abroad but who will be too proud or too feeble to insist upon an adequate return for his support.

Some Suggested Steps
Our government and our people should not become lipped on the idea that we should become the outstanding leaders in world affairs. Destiny has called us to play a decisive part in World War II, but we should not consider it as a permanent job. Washington has had a lot of New Deal experience with out-and-out relief; but Washington knows nothing about the investment of capital. Such foreign investments should now be resisted as we would resist the plague.

It further is entirely possible that after 1949 we may have some years of severe depression which will require all of our resources to overcome. As Congress is now fast-tracking our own industries of working capital, they will soon require all of our accumulated savings. U. S. unemployment and the fulfillment of civilian requirements will also require vast amounts of money. Hence, I trust that a little Yankee common sense may prevail and that we may not entirely expend our heritage. One thing more: Example is much more potent than precept. In the long run we can do the world the most good by putting our own accounts in order. This will not be a selfish thing for us to do, but it will be for the good of the entire world to see one nation run honestly, intelligently and efficiently with justice for all and favoritism to none.

Lansing Hospitals Taxed As 47 Are Poisoned By Food

Believe Source Of Poisoning Was In Salad Dressing, Ate Egg Salad Sandwiches

LANSING, Mich., June 2.—(INS)—Emergency facilities of Lansing's hospitals were taxed today following the admittance of 47 people stricken with food poisoning. Some of the patients were in a serious condition. The lives of at least ten were saved by blood plasma, hospital attendants said. The victims were employed at a construction project at the Oldsmobile forge plant where they became ill shortly after lunch. Cause of the poisoning was attributed to tainted egg salad sandwiches distributed by a Lansing catering company. Four others who ate sandwiches in a downtown drugstore also collapsed. Scores of physicians and nurses were summoned to assist in treating the victims. An investigation was immediately launched by Dr. T. M. Koppa, state health department physician. He expressed the belief that the source of the poisoning was in the salad dressing.

Italian Girls Want Lipstick

American Soldier Will Clean Up On Souvenirs, Has 36 Lipsticks To Trade With

PHILADELPHIA, June 2.—(INS)—An Air Force Cpl. George Gebhardt, 19, of the Conshohocken section soon may corner the souvenir market in the section of Italy where he is stationed. The corporal wrote home asking for lipsticks, explaining that the cosmetic in Italy is so scarce that the girls are willing to trade anything for it. With the lipsticks, he said, he could get "souvenirs" that make swell gifts for the folks back home.

Frank M. Winne, Pennsylvania manager for Carstairs Distilleries, remembered his company had some lipsticks in the shape of whisky bottles for advertising purposes and mailed Gebhardt 36 of them. With the lipsticks, Winne sent a note wishing the corporal the best of luck, and we hope they bring you results.

Sears Employees Profit Sharing Report Made

Twenty-Two Employees In New Castle Store Included In Statement

When Manager C. M. Bashew handed out the Profit Sharing statements to the Sears, Roebuck and Co. employees here today, he had some in attendance at meeting who could not be seen but whose presence was distinctly felt by all who were at the session. These invisible employees are those men and women who have left the local store here to go into the armed services.

Of the 13,514 Sears employees who are in the service of their country as of March 26, 9,500 of them are members of the Sears Employees Pension and Profit Sharing Fund. They continue as members though some of them have been gone from the company to their military duties as long ago as 1940.

Manager Bashew announced that 22 employees of the local store, exclusive of those in armed services, are Fund members. These members for 1943 were credited with 37 shares of company stock which on April 15 had a market value of $3,274.00. They had additional credit of $2,592.09 in government bonds and cash making a total 1943 credit of $5,866.09. Thus their participation in the 1943 Company's contribution and other Profit Sharing earnings brought their accumulated credits up to 234 shares of stock with a market value of $20,709.00, plus a value of $5,844.00 in government bonds and cash in bank.

PLENTY OF PLEAS

The length of the June term of criminal court will be short and from the number of cases that will be tried one might assume that crime is practically non-existent in Lawrence County.

Actually there is always a long list of cases but District Attorney Leroy K. Donaldson usually succeeds in getting about 90 per cent of the alleged offenders to enter pleas. This sometimes saves a little time in that the court usually takes into consideration the plea and the sentence is lightened somewhat.

Know Your Schools

ARITHMETIC IN THE ELEMENTARY SCHOOL

The teaching of the four fundamentals, addition, subtraction, multiplication and division has occupied an important place in the elementary school. We learn through practice. Continued practice makes for perfection is our belief and so in some of our New Castle schools we teach the Intrinsic Method.

The Intrinsic Method was originated and developed and put into practice in Highland and McGill schools by Mr. R. G. Leslie, a former principal of these schools. All experiments and applications were under close supervision.

The Intrinsic Method provides the teacher with the number of facts that should be taught and on which considerable practice is required in order to make them automatic. Not only does this method provide for the learning and making automatic every number fact, but at the same time it provides for the learning of the process in which the number facts are used, and for the making of them automatic in those processes.

The plan provides for study and practice by the pupil, rather than by drill on the part of the teacher. It is practically a self teaching device where the pupil, through his own efforts in practicing on the number facts learns them. It is a method where success with each lesson may always be certain and a method from which all pupils enjoy and do not tire. The teacher at all times knows the progress of each pupil, even though the entire class is not working on the same sheet or same kind of problems. The Intrinsic Method provides for children to work at their own speed. When one sheet or arithmetic form is completed and checked by the teacher the child is given the next form. The child is competing only with himself.

The arithmetic forms are the arithmetic problems on one side of the card and all the combinations that are involved in the problems are on the other side. When a child comes to a combination in a problem that he doesn't know he turns to the combination side of the card, finds the combination and answer and goes on working the problem. The child is encouraged to find the correct answer rather than put down an incorrect answer and have the incorrect answer fixed in his mind. It has been learned that the child will not look any more often than necessary and that he would rather learn the combination than turn his card to find the answer. This method makes for good study habits. While learning the combinations by this method the pupil is developing such study habits as persistency, self-reliance, attention to details, accuracy and self-confidence.

It has been learned that children forget very quickly and it is necessary to review the different types of problems very often. By using the various forms from time to time after the first practice with them the pupil gets repeated practice on each combination under conditions producing a high degree of satisfaction through the success attained.

It may be of great interest to the public to know just what arithmetic is generally taught in each grade. In the first grade no formal arithmetic is taught. Pupils learn to count, recognize numbers, write numbers, increase their number concepts and learn arithmetical terms with which they may come in contact.

The 100 addition and subtraction combinations are learned in the second grade along with the meaning of addition, sum, add, subtraction and minus. Single column addition is taught.

Carrying and borrowing are introduced in the third grade. Multiplication facts are learned and multiplication where carrying is involved is introduced for the first time. Long division is introduced in the fourth grade by means of a one digit divisor. The problems used for practice are those in which are found the 360 complex division number facts. These problems give much practice with the multiplication and subtraction number facts in entirely new settings. Practice is continued on column addition where higher decade addition facts are involved.

Addition, subtraction, multiplication and division of fractions constitute the new work presented to the fifth grade.

In the sixth grade addition, subtraction, multiplication and division of decimal fractions are introduced. Practical reading problems are used from the third grade through the sixth. In all grades the previous work is reviewed from time to time.

Ninth Air Force Ready To Spring

Ninth Air Force Will Cover Infantry When Invasion Of Europe Gets Under Way

By WILLIAM WADE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WITH THE NINTH U. S. AIR FORCE IN BRITAIN, June 2—The Ninth Air Force's versatile fighters are ready today to provide the war's closest air support for Allied infantrymen on D-Day and in the days that follow the western European invasion.

Its fighter pilots have been living and field conditions for almost two months, sleeping and eating under canvas at this airfield in southeastern England only a few minutes flying time from Hitler's "west wall"—as the Mustang flies with throttles open.

Pilots Know Jobs

The pilots already have tried out various methods of dive-bombing against targets on the continent: pin-pointing bridges, gun installations, and individual buildings at airfields and railway yards in preparation for laying a cordon of bombs around the advancing Allied troops and choking off German communications from the battle area.

All three types of the Ninth's fighters—Mustangs, Thunderbolts and Lightnings—are flown by pilots who still are flying long-range escort duty into Germany, thus becoming proficient in straining, "skip-bombing" and glide-bombing.

Visiting one group of Mustangs commanded by Col. George R. Gickell of Nutley, N. J., this correspondent found all personnel living in tents. The pilots had the luxury of unfloored pyramid tents equipped with cots, while all the other personnel slept on the ground in pup tents. They bathed under makeshift but efficient, showers constructed of steel scraps and fed by water from a Mustang bellytank fixed in the crotch of a tree.

Portable Landing Fields

The planes themselves were getting used to field conditions, likely to be found at the first base on the continent, by taking off and landing daily on runways made of portable steel matting.

Study of all tactics employed in other theatres for close support of ground troops has instilled in the pilots the best methods for approaching targets. It has taught them they will have to bomb forward of the bombline, which marks the peak of the Allied advance.

Thunderbolt and Lightning groups also are living under field conditions, likewise practicing dive-bombing. Thus it was revealed that these two type fighters now are carrying a 1,000-pound bomb under each wing.

Makes High Record In University After War Service At Sea

Mrs. Harriet Conzett, of 412 West Washington street, has received word from a member of the faculty of Western Michigan University, stating that her son, Richard Buchanan's name, had been posted on the high scholarship record, for the last semester in Western.

Before entering Western Michigan University, Buchanan, who was Storekeeper First Class, had been in service in the Pacific for 13 months, and in the Naval service since 1939.

Young Buchanan was at Pearl Harbor during the sneak attack by the Japs, December 1941, and in eight major battles in the South Pacific was on the ship that fired the first shot at Guadalcanal, the USS Minneapolis; he was also aboard the "Minnie" when 80 feet was blown off her in the battle of Tassafaranga, escaping unscathed.

Waste Paper Salvage Must Be Increased

Pennsylvania's Council of Defense is asking all local salvage committees to speed up and increase waste paper collections this month. According to Colley S. Baker, executive secretary of the Advisory Committee on Salvage, the situation is becoming critical.

The 24 pounds per person which were contributed during the first four months of this year amounted to only two-thirds of the state's quota. During May, one of Pennsylvania's largest container mills was closed for five days because of the lack of waste paper.

War needs must come first, Mr. Baker says, and if waste paper is thrown away essential civilian supplies may be cut down. Throwing away a piece of paper the size of a hand would result in a fine in England.

Daily rate of governmental war expenditures in February reached an all-time high of 312 million dollars, compared with last year's average of about 273 million dollars and the 1942 daily rate of 169 million dollars.

China is planning its own post-war automotive industry. The program calls for initial annual production of one vehicle for every 125 miles of road, or a total of 2,600 vehicles on China's 32,500 miles of road.

King George VI Praises Y.M.C.A.

English Ruler Commends World-wide Service To Youth On Centenary Observance

Warm praise for the Young Men's Christian Association as it reaches its centennial today is contained in a message from King George VI of Great Britain and relayed to Robert L. Meermans, general secretary of the Y.M.C.A. here.

"I learn with interest and pleasure," the king's message stated, "that the Y.M.C.A. is about to celebrate the centenary of its founding. As its patron I join its leaders and members in thankfulness to almighty God for the worldwide services to youth which it has been able to render during the past 100 years."

"The record of what the Y.M.C.A. has achieved in the past most notably in times of war justifies a confident belief that it will have a worthy and important part in the future rebuilding of national and international life," the king declared.

Plate Glass Prisms On Mass Production

TOLEDO, O., June 2.—(INS)—Plate glass prisms are being manufactured on a mass production basis to relieve a bottleneck created by demands of the armed forces for a new type tank "periscope" sighting device. Libby-Owens-Ford Glass Co. technicians disclosed.

The new process not only is relieving the production jam in the optical industry, but the latest periscope glasses provide an estimated 50 per cent improved visibility over the old type sighting devices, the experts said. The former instruments were made from a series of mirrors and flat glass windows.

The two lower pockets of the Army's newest combat uniform hold nine Army hand grenades each. Formerly these grenades had to be strapped on with tape or carried in sacks.

Vivian, D.D., popular lecturer and preacher of Seaford, Del., will be the speaker at Volant Presbyterian church at the 10 o'clock morning service and at Rich Hill Presbyterian church at the 11:15 a.m. service on Sunday, June 4. He is a brother-in-law of Rev. H. K. Miller, pastor of the Volant-Rich Hill congregations.

The origin of "clock" is Celtic and comes from the Saxon "clucca" French "cloche", Danish "klokke" and others, all meaning bell. The ancient monks divided their day into periods, each marked by the tolling of a bell, and due to this fact the word was used to denote a mechanical timepiece.

Big Three Set Surrender Terms

Report America, Great Britain And Russia Have Agreed On German Occupation

By KINGSBURY SMITH
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, June 2—Well-informed sources reported today that America, Britain and Russia have reached virtually a complete understanding on surrender terms and occupational plans for a defeated Nazi Germany.

The broad outline discussed by the three major Allied powers includes four principal points, these sources said. These are:

First, the surrender terms, including the areas to be occupied by the various Allied forces.

Second, the control machinery to handle an indefinite occupation of the Reich.

Third, the future of Germany.

Fourth, the future of the Reich.

Agreement Reached

An agreement has been reached already on all but minor phases of the first two points and the tripartite discussions were reported to be centered now on the third topic, that of the necessary control machinery. So far, these observers said, no serious discussions have been held on the last point dealing with the future of the Reich.

No agreement has been reached as yet on what to do with the German army after the war, a problem due for much discussion when the last point on the agenda is reached. A sub-topic of this phase is the problem of whether German labor should be used to help rebuild the war-devastated areas of Europe and, if so, in what manner this should be done.

Informed quarters said that the German problems are the only ones the Russians have been willing to discuss so far before the European advisory council. The Soviets also were said to be unwilling at present to include the smaller powers in the talks concerning the treatment of the Reich.

Man seems very wise as he reveals his knowledge; his folly appears when he begins to interpret it.

Girl Stand-In Is Now Movie Player

HOLLYWOOD, June 2—(INS)—Hollywood did one of its most whimsical bits of casting today. It assigned Marybelle Currie, No. 2 stand-in for Shirley Temple, to play a girl taxi-driver on the screen. The idea is not quite as silly as it seems. Miss Currie is 21 years old.

She substitutes for Shirley when Mary Lou Isled, the star's regular stand-in, has to take time off for school work. Mary Lou is the same age as Shirley.
The woman cab driver is a character in "Double Furlough," the movie in which both Shirley and Ginger Rogers appear.

Waste paper collection totaled 533,000 tons in January, 1944, according to the Office of War Information.

Bundles' Will Aid Deshon Hospital With Furnishings

Community Support Urged To Furnish Day Rooms At Deshon Hospital For Immediate Use

Bundles from New Castle, Pa., held its regular monthly meeting Thursday at the home of the chairman, Mrs. Grace Phillips Johnson, Moody avenue. After reports were read and business considered, tea was served and a social time enjoyed.

Contact has been made with Lieutenant Nealon stationed at the Deshon hospital annex here and this organization will undertake the job of helping furnish the day rooms for the Deshon annex, as was done for Camp Reynolds when it was opened. Some tables and other furniture already on hand are being taken out today, Mrs. Johnson states. If anyone who has sturdy used furniture they are asked to telephone the office any afternoon, 6:58, when arrangements will be made to pick up the articles and recondition them for this purpose. A piano in good condition is needed.

Starting Monday, June 5, a white elephant sale will be held every Monday afternoon during the summer in the same building as last summer, corner of East Washington and Croton avenue. It is hoped that the many friends of this organization will remember this weekly event and bring or send articles for the ladies to sell. Almost everyone has things stored away that are good and useable and someone else could put them in use again.

The money thus realized in turn is used for our own needy, the needy of our Allies and perhaps give a little touch of home comfort to some of our fighting men. The whole hearted co-operation of the entire community is urged in this immediate project, which means "helping those who have fought, are fighting and are daily giving their lives for us."

Commerce Chief Reaches Moscow

Eric Johnston, U. S. Commerce President, Will Discuss American-Russian Trade Relations

MOSCOW, June 2.—(INS)—Eric Johnston, president of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, was in Moscow today prepared to discuss expansion of Soviet-American business relations.

Johnston, who arrived with U. S. Ambassador W. Averell Harriman, aboard a four-motored plane yesterday, told a news conference that he would talk with leading Russian businessmen and tour industrial areas. The object of trips to the front and to devastated areas, he added, would be to ascertain what technological skill is needed for reconstruction.

As far as the United States is concerned, Johnston added, "we have our feet set on the road towards expanding trade promoted by the efforts of private enterprise, and it seems to me that the fact that I have been invited to come to Russia indicates that the Soviet authorities are willing and desirous to enter into business relations with our business men after the war."

STRIKE MAY END
ST. LOUIS, June 2.—(INS)—Striking streetcar and bus operators today voted by a slim majority to return to work but Regional WLB Chairman Paul Nachman insisted upon a unanimous vote, and matter was tabled.

Nachman threw the meeting open for discussion pending arrival at a unanimous opinion.

School Children Start Vacation

Public Schools Of City Close For Summer With Session Today

Like a thundering herd, the school children of the New Castle public schools charged out the doors of the school buildings today, report cards in one hand and promotion cards in the other, headed for home for old clothes and summer.

This was the last day of the 1943-44 school term and the session lasted not much more than half an hour. Little girls were shined up like a neon sign with new dresses. Some of them carried their dolls and others took smaller sisters or brothers or a neighboring youngster to the last day session for there was no work done today. Small boys' faces shined like a polished apple for this was one day they wanted to be diked out.

For most of the youngsters the day meant release for three months of fun. But for many it meant shifting from the discipline of the teacher to the foreman for a lot of the kids who have taken jobs for the summer.

For the most part the youngsters were all promoted but some were who for various reasons have to return to the same grade next year and take another whirl at the studies in the same grade. This group was a small minority.

Many of the teachers have war jobs for the summer and like the youngsters will answer to a foreman until fall. But anyhow today is the last day of school, the official opening of the summer vacation, the prelude to days in the sun, the opening door to three months freedom from the restraint of the class room.

School children in the city of New Castle made their final tin can collection this week for the present school year. The kiddies wound up the year with a banner collection, 43,360 cans. Thaddeus Stevens was the usual leader among larger schools. Oak Street turned in the largest collection.

For individual leadership, Elizabeth Harper of Oak Street was city champion with 2528 cans. At Rose Avenue, Genevieve Walters, age 8, grade 3, was high with 1314. The leader at Thaddeus Stevens was William Hoover, age 9, grade 3, with 130 cans. Two other pupils collected more than 1000 cans. They were Maxine Taylor of Mahoning School, 1855 cans, and Charles Walzer of West Side school, 1052. The final collection for the present school year has been made. ## Radium Recovered Is Worth $12,000

CORAOPOLES, Pa., June 2.—(INS)—A proportionately $12,000 worth of radium was recovered by the Continental Foundry & Machine company today after a 29-year-old mother's helper admitted he had unwittingly taken it home under the belief that the cartridge in which it was contained was a survivor's plumb bob. Alex Francis Csonka said he took the radium cartridge, containing two capsules, last May 26 and put it in a dresser drawer, where authorities found it. The radium is used by the plant to X-ray steel castings for flaws. Although severe burns can result from possession of radium in cartridge form, a New York technician who aided in the recovery doubted that Csonka or his wife and three children had suffered any ill effects due to the short time the radium was in his possession.

After the strikers have been placed in 1-A they will not be put in deferred classification on returning to work, Griffin said.

Six Soldiers At Fort Knox Killed

FORT KNOX, June 2.—(INS)—A board of inquiry today investigated an explosion in which six soldiers were killed and a score of others injured during training maneuvers at the Fort Knox post. Officials said the explosion was of materials used to simulate battle conditions. Several of the injured, they said, were in serious condition.

Maj. Gen. Charles L. Scott, commander of the armored replacement training center, ordered the official investigation.

Dirigibles May Answer Problems

NEW YORK, June 2.—(INS)—The dirigible is Uncle Sam's dark-horse entry that can jockey the United States into a position of power supremacy in international air commerce. Rear Admiral C. E. Rosendahl declared today. The admiral, writing in the current issue of Collier's, recommended construction of at least a dozen dirigibles—each of ten million cubic foot capacity. This would be half again the size of Germany's destroyed Hindenburg.

Many Lives Spared By Good Leadership

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, June 2.—(INS)—Far fewer American troops have been killed in action in the entire Southwest Pacific than at the Anzio beachhead in Italy, Nelson T. Johnson, U. S. Ambassador to Australia, said today. Whenever possible, he said, Gen. Douglas MacArthur has bypassed rather than attacked enemy strength. The certain knowledge that the commander would always avoid all unnecessary loss of life has contributed heavily to the morale factor in the Southwest Pacific, Johnson said. What he saw during his recent tour of New Guinea, Johnson added, convinces him that General MacArthur is "well on his way to the Philippines."

Add a sprig or so of fresh mint to green peas or new potatoes while cooking. It will give the vegetables a nice flavor.

American Loop Race Exciting

New York Yanks Have Lost Mastery As Browns-Senators Threaten

PIRATES NOSE OUT BROOKLYN DODGERS

By JOHN CASIMAN

(International News Service Sports Writer)
NEW YORK, June 2.—(INS)—What might be the end of the New York Yankees as masters of the American league in 1944 is suggested today by the fact that the Yanks, second to the St. Louis Browns by the slim shadow of two percentage points, are steadily growing worse in every department except pitching.

The Yankees wasted another fairly good pitching performance yesterday when they batted a 4 to 3 decision to the Detroit Tigers on three errors, in a 16-inning contest.

Senators Top Browns
The Browns were given their lead on a quick mathematics, since they lost to the Washington Senators, 11 to 5.

The Boston Red Sox climbed from seventh to sixth place with a 7 to 6 win over the Cleveland Indians.

The Chicago-Philadelphia game was postponed because of wet grounds.

Munger Injured
In the National league, pitcher George Munger hit a piece of bad luck when struck in the pitching hand by a line drive off Dee Phillips' bat in the eighth inning at the St. Louis Cardinals trounced the Boston Braves, 4 to 2.

Pitcher Dick Barrett turned in some nice work at the plate before being relieved in the eighth inning as he batted the Philadelphia Phillies to an 8 to 7 triumph over the Cincinnati Reds.

Pirates Edge Dodgers
Veteran Curt Davis limited the Pittsburgh Pirates to only four hits as the Brooklyn Dodgers lost to the Pittsburgh Pirates, 2 to 1. Davis' trouble lay in the fact that 50 per cent of the hits gained off him were home runs.

Babe Dahlgren hit one in the fifth and Johnny Barrett came through with another in the eighth. The homer gave Rip Sewell his seventh win of the year.

The giant string of victories was increased to six straight as Bill Vosselle pitched the New Yorkers to a 5 to 3 victory over the Chicago Cubs.

Bob Montgomery To Be Inducted

Said the Bobcat: "I'm preparing for the biggest fight of my career."

ALCOAS FINALLY WIN LOOP TILT

Defeat West Pittsburgh 12 To 11 In Ding-Dong Battle Thursday Evening

After dropping five straight in the city baseball league the Alcoa team finally broke the ice yesterday at the Booker T. Washington field by handing the West Pittsburgh team a 12 to 11 setback. The game was a ding-dong battle all the way.

Marky, Eversole and Cardella hit homers for the West Pittsburgh team to be the feature hitters. Grimen also hit well and fielded well for West Pittsburgh. Thornton and Dean did the Alcoa pitching, with the latter the winning hurler. Harman was the losing hurler. Mahey played a bang-up game at first for the Alcoa, and had three hits, one a triple.

MOOSE WIN, BUT SOHO PROTESTS

Shenango Claims Moose Not Entitled To Seventh Inning Run

Moose defeated Shenango Pottery 8 to 7, in a City Baseball league game yesterday at Lee avenue, but Manager Johnny Soho has protested the game and having fulfilled all protest requirements the case will go before the board of commissioners at a date to be designated by President M. J. Donovan.

The game was featured by the hitting of Mike Budia who poked four hits which enabled the Moose to win. Corporal Orlovski hit a home run, as did Thomas. The latter's four ply swat came with two runners on base. Ferrante allowed the Shenango only eight hits and Moose was hit 14 times by the Moose.

Claims Scorer Out

Manager Soho protested the last play in the last of the seventh. There were three runners on and Mash up with two out. Mash singled to left. Coulter, on second, loafed on the play to third, flouting the game was over and was caught on a sleeper by the left fielder throwing the ball to third putting him out before the play was completed.

Manager Soho claims the runner from third to home was not a run but an out, ending the game, 7 to 7. The box score:

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS LAND

To make games zippier, a planned program of dosing ball players with multiple vitamins—the identical formula used by the army—has been undertaken by eight major league ball teams. It was announced today that the players at high-octane gas, 85,000 of the pellets will be consumed the remainder of the season by the players in both major leagues. The step follows the successful experiment by Sam Broadon who has been feeding his St. Louis Cardinals multiple vitamins since 1942 and which perhaps accounts for the Cards' pennant winning form in 1942 and 1943. Then again, maybe the eight team managers figured out that of the army, which is winning one engagement after the other, including double-headers, is shoveling out millions of pep-up tablets, there must be a magic something in the pills that ambitious baseball players need.

With all players signed for the first half, good games being played and large crowds following, the teams indicated are bright for a successful City Baseball league season. Interest gathered more quickly this season than for some years past according to various managers. Already the league leadership has changed several times. One or two of the weaker sisters in the circuit were strengthened by the addition of players before June 1 Monday night in the Y there will be a meeting of managers. Shenango Pottery has conformed to rules concerning their protestation of the Moose Victory yesterday and the commissioners are asked by President M. J. Donovan to settle the protest Monday night at the Y.

Fannins Nose Out Wolverines

Close Contest Is Taken By Fannins In American Legion Junior League Game

With a six-run rally in the last two frames, Wolverines gave the strong Fannins team a scare in an American Legion contest played at the Lehigh field last evening, coming within one run of tying up the contest. Fannins won 10-9.

The game went along evenly, with the Wolverines taking an early lead which was evened up in the fourth at three-all. The Fannins' bats got to working in the fifth, however, and they scored five runs, following it up with two more in the sixth, which produced the deciding tally.

Pander with a triple and Storer with a double led the Fannins hitting, while Tanner and Chantella had doubles for the Wolverines and Jopek a triple.

Tonight the Fannins will journey to Prospect to play the strong Prospect nine.

Armstrong To Battle Joyce

Former Triple-Title Holder Battles Youngster For Third Time Tonight

By DAVIS J. WALSH

(International News Service Sports Writer)

CHICAGO, June 2.—(INS)—All kinds of rabid and slightly wire-haired reports were circulating through the town during the early morning hours, purporting to cite the sort of money astutely high-voltage) that Henry Armstrong and Willie Joyce had consented to accept for unveiling the third episode of their absorbing serial at the Chicago stadium tonight. One story said they were getting 67 per cent of the net, which is clearly just a touch out of focus.

Far enough out as a matter of fact to break the trans-second record for the plunge for distance. Another account said it was 62 1/2, which is the Mike Jacobs formula whenever there's a fight he feels he must have. (He covers his solvency here by the radio rights and maybe a little high-pressure in other directions.) A third report quoted 60, with Armstrong getting 40 per cent and Joyce 20, and this quite possibly is most plausible estimate of all.

Promoter Speaks

But Promoter Irving Schoenwald promptly said it wasn't.

If you must know," said he, "Armstrong gets 40 per cent and Joyce 15. That's the contract we have on file at the commission. All told 55 per cent to the principals. Even at that figure which were politely accepting, because it isn't nice to argue with a man's solemn assurances, the indications are that nobody will make any money all the time tonight. Nobody, that is, except Armstrong, Joyce and the Treasury Department.

KILLINGER PROMOTED

Glenn Killinger, former Penn State all-American and now head coach of football at North Carolina Pre-Flight, has been promoted to lieutenant commander in the naval reserve.

Pirates Purchase Fred Ostermueller

PITTSBURGH, June 2.—(INS)—Pittsburgh's Pirates today moved to bolster a weak mound corps through the purchase of Fred Ostermueller from the Syracuse Club of the International League.

The addition of the new southpaw, at one-time with the Dodgers, gives the Pirates a pitching staff of ten, including four left-handers, Ostermueller, 36, plans to join the Buccaneers in New York today.

May Never Try Kimmel-Short

Former Commanders Retired Following Pearl Harbor Attack Suffer Because Of Delay

By RAYMOND WILCOVE
U.S. Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 2.—Sen. Albert B. Chandler (D., Ky.) declared today that Rear Admiral Husband E. Kimmel and Maj. Gen. Walter Short may never be brought to trial in connection with the Pearl Harbor disaster.

"It is quite possible that the two men will never be brought to trial," Chandler stated. "It is undoubtedly unjust to have these men convicted by public opinion and not do anything for them, but if it is in the public interest not to hold the trials now then these men must suffer."

Act On Resolution
Chandler's statement was made as the Senate judiciary committee prepared to act Thursday on a resolution extending for six months beyond June 7 the statute of limitations under which the two former commanders at Pearl Harbor could be court-martialed.

Meanwhile, it was learned that high army and navy officials have informed the Senate judiciary committee that they have no charges to file against the two men and have pressed the committee not to approve anything that would force the secretaries of the navy and war to institute court martial proceedings before the war ended.

To do so, they were reported to have stated, would force them to bring the two men to trial immediately after charges were filed. It would not be in the "public interest," they maintained, to compel important witnesses to leave their duties at war fronts to testify.

The statute of limitation originally expired December 7, 1943, after a lapse of two years but was extended for six months by congress. Attorney General Francis Biddle contended the action was "innocuous," however, as the president did not sign the legislation until two days after the statute expired.

Both Kimmel and Short have signed waivers of the statute, but doubts have been expressed whether either the waivers or extensions were legal. The former commanders were retired after the December 7, 1941 attack and are now in civil employ.

West Ridge Bus Lines Continue Unchanged Here

Schedules for West Ridge buses taken over by the Greyhound line in a recent deal will remain unchanged at least for the next six months, according to reports received by the local bus depot.

Personnel will be the same, as will the route followed by the line between Erie and Pittsburgh. The facilities of the West Ridge and of the Buffalo and Erie Coach Co., both purchased by the Greyhound corporation, will be used to supplement the Greyhound service between Erie and Buffalo.

The buses will be known as the West Ridge-Greyhound line for the time being.

Harmony Short Line bus schedules here have been changed, though, for the line to Johnstown, it is announced.

Road Is Repaired After Heavy Rain

Damaged by the heavy rainfall last Wednesday, about a mile and a half of the Pulaski road is now being repaired by the State Department of Highways, according to Edwin O. Reed, superintendent of highways.

The work is mostly clearing the road and gutters of the mud, stones and logs which were washed down by the rain, but in some places the surface was damaged and must be repaired. Work will be completed sometime during the first of next week, Mr. Reed said.

Girls And More Girls At Summer Session

GROVE CITY, June 2.—Registration for the Grove City college summer session of 16 weeks is practically all co-eds, according to Registrar H. O. White, who states that 130 students have registered thus far. Many of these are taking the accelerated course.

With exception of Dr. E. H. Kase, Jr., the regular faculty is meeting classes. Professors Dawes, Keefer, Rudi and Carpenter are teaching classes only in the naval training school.
